INTERESTING REUNION AT JAMESTOWN, VA.

Descendants of Signers Declaration Independence to Meet.

PREPARATIONS ARE UNDER WAY

Thomas Jefferson Memorial Association Has Planned an Interesting Feature in Connection with the Exercises at Jamestown Exposition.

New York, May 7.—A reunion of the descendants of the signers of the Declaration of Independence will be held at Jamestown exposition on July 4.

The suggestion first made by the Thomas Jefferson Memorial association has been taken up by the exposition officials and preparations are under way.

The Thomas Jefferson Memorial association, whose headquarters are in Washington, wants every citizen who traces his lineage to Jefferson or any other signer of the historic document, to send his name in. The association desires to send an invitation to each one.

The association has received many letters from prominent men endorsing the project. Grover Cleveland wrote: "I unreservedly approve of the project. Such a reunion should certainly have a tendency to stimulate patriotic sentiment."

Part of the program for the reunion will be the reading of the Declaration of Independence by a descendant of Thomas Jefferson. There will be addresses by several prominent men, and music by a chorus of 500 voices.

HISTORIC BUILDING IN DANGER.

Famous Alhambra of Grenada Is in Pressing Need of Repairs.

Paris, May 7.—The condition of the famous Alrambra, at Grenada, is discussed in a local journal which also publishes photographs showing the pressing necessity of repairs.

According to the paper, the marvelous ceiling of the hall of the Comarez threatens to fall in at any moment. The northern wall of the tower of the same name has subsided and the weight of the cupola is likely to cause a complete collapse.

The Mauchaca gallery and the Plato of the harem are in immediate danger of becoming total ruins. The Defender de Granada, the paper referred to, announces the call for a public meeting to take action in the matter, and says that a petition will be drawn up and sent to Madrid.

Approves Child Labor Bill.

Albany, May 7.—Governor Hughes has approved the Page child labor bill, desired by the child labor committees and the consumers' league. It provides that no minor under 16 years of age shall be employed or permitted to work in any factory in this state before 8 a. m., or after 5 p. m., or more than eight hours in any one day. The permitted hours are now 6 a. m. to 7 p. m., and a nine-hour day is permitted. The act will not take effect until January 1, 1908.

STREET CARS TIED UP.

Conductors and Motormen Strike in 'Frisco Trolley Railways.

San Francisco, May 7.—Street car motormen and conductors struck Sunday, tying-up the street car system of San Francisco. In place of cars, all sorts of vehicles, from automobiles to express wagons, were used by the public.

The fifteen hundred motormen and conductors of the United Railways Investment company voted to declare a strike, after having failed to obtain an eight-hour day, and a flat wage of three dollars.

The strikers have been reinforced by the stationary firemen, who demand recognition of their union, and an increase in wages from $2.75 to $3.25 a day. It is probable that other allied unions will come to the support of the car men.

President Patrick Calhoun says that the United Railways will operate its lines independently of the car men's union, and if resisted, will demand from the city and state authorities the full prdotection guaranteed by the law,

In case city and state are unable to provide protection in case of serious trouble, federal assistance may be invoked on the ground that the United Railways Investment company, of New Jersey, is a foreign corporation.

GEORGIA BOY MISSING.

Friends Fear that Charles Hart Has Been Murdered.

Atlanta, May 7.—The whereabouts of Charles C. Hart, a Georgia boy, who has been a resident of Illinois for the past three years, is a mystery, as he is said to have left Blue Mound, Macon county, for Chicago, on April 14th, and has never been seen nor heard from since that date, and is supposed to have been murdered.

This news was communicated to Mrs. M. N. Elliott, of Cedartown, Ga., Saturday night, and her brother, J. B. Hart, immediately left for Decatur, Ills.

On April 14th young Hart wrote his sister, Mrs. Elliott, that he would leave Blue Mound for Chicako. He sent his dress suit case to a friend in the Windy City. This article arrived in due time but Hart has not been seen.

At the time the Georgia man was supposed to have left Macon county, Ills., a man, unknown, was murdered in Decatur. He is still unidentified, and the friends and relatives of the missing man entertain fears that this may be Charles Hart.

Hart comes from one of the best families in the state.

Daring Plot by Band of Russian Revolutionists.

POLITICAL PRISONERS ESCAPE

During Services in Prison Chapel at Alexandrovik Bombs Are Exploded and Chief Inspector is Killed—Several Terrorists Also Escape.

St. Petersburg, May 7.—A plot which resulted in the liberation of 13 political prisoners was daringly executed at Alexandrovik near Yekaterionslav Sunday, in the services at the prison chapel.

A band of revolutionists entered the building, killed the chief inspector and exploded two bombs. Under cover of the confusion which followed thirteen political prisoners, including several important terrorists, escaped.

The Easter holidays otherwise passed off quietly.

No manifestation of anti-Jewish feelings is reported from any point in the empire. Dispatches from various cities announce the customary pardoning of minor offenders at Easter.

Malmoe, Sweden, May 7.—The Russian socialists desirous of holding a congress here are being kept on the move in the Scandinavian peninsula. After having been ordered out of Denmark 120 delegates arrived here on Sunday night, and were joined by 60 others who came by way of Stockholm. The police, however, refused to permit the socialists to remain here. The Russians, thereupon, requested permission to go to Estjerg, and there embark for England, where they hope to be able to hold a congress.

MORE GREAT BATTLESHIPS.

President Roosevelt to Name Two New Fighters of Dreadnaught Type.

Washington, May 7.—President Roosevelt has under consideration the naming of the two battleships of the Dreadnaught type for which contracts will soon be awarded.

The ships will be given names of states according to custom. Most of the states have been honored already, but there remain Delaware, Utah, North Dakota and New York that have no war vessels named for them. New York is eliminated for the reason that there is an armored cruiser named for the city of New York. When Oklahoma qualifies as a state it will give the navy department one additional name to draw upon.

While no action was taken Monday it is thought likely that Delaware, the second smallest state in the Union, will be honored by having one of the greatest battleships named for it and that Utah will be the other state to be so honored.

SHORTAGE IN WHEAT CROP.

Predicted by Traders and Commission Men of Chicago.

Chicago, May 7.—The last week on the Chicago board of trade has seen a revival of the activity which prevailed there several years ago, and it is predicted by the more optimistic traders that this will continue at a higher level for some time to come.

The cold weather conditions which have prevailed so continuously throughout the west and southwest have been the chief cause of the increased volume of trade. Never in the history of the weather bureau has such extended and such severe weather existed at this time of the year.

The result has been a growing conviction on the part of many traders and commission men that the crop of winter wheat has been seriously damaged, and one excellent authority has made the prediction that the crop will be about 1,000,000 bushels below that of last year. Conflicting reports have been received from all sections regarding the damage inflicted by the "green bug," and from Oklahoma especially have the reports been of a contradictory character.

By some it has been asserted that the crop has been greatly impaired, and by others that the injury has been slight. The result has been, however, a renewal of something like old-time activity on the board of trade.

Dragged to Death by Mule.

Valdosta, Ga., May 7.—News was brought here from Hahira Saturday of the awful death of a negro boy, a son of Gus Newsom, who lives on the line of Berrien and Lowndes county. The negro had been plowing in the field, and when the day's work was done he unhooked the mule, tied the hames and harness to the animal and mounted it to ride home. As he rode up to his house his father was feeding some hogs, and the mule became frightened at these, and ran away. The boy's feet were caught in the harness, and he was dragged for a distance of 4 miles, his clothing being torn off of him, and his body beaten to a pulp against trees and stumps.

RAILROAD CONTROL BY UNITED STATES

Judge Farrar Tells How It Can Be Accomplished.

INTERVIEW WITH ROOSEVELT

New Orleans Judge Tells How United States Can Absolutely Control the Railways of the Country—Cites Decisions Previously Given.

Washington, May 7.—Judge E. H. Farrar, of New Orleans, had an interview with President Roosevelt on Saturday, regarding the relation of the government to the railroads, as compared with control by the several states.

Judge Farrar finds ample authority on the constitution giving the control of post-routes to the central government, making many citations from decisions rendered in both federal and state courts, and gives as his opinion that congress can, under paragraph 7, section 8, article I, of the constitution, adopt such means "as in its judgment are convenient, necessary and proper."

In Judge Farrar's opinion the government can regulate the railroads as to mode of organization and management; capital stock, creation of debt and issuance of securities; operations; qualifications of employees and their conduct; can shield the roads from state control; can allow them to sue and be sued in United States courts alone; can protect them from state, county and municipal taxation. Relations of employees as fellow servants can be regulated, as may be settlement of claims, interchange of cars, freight and passengers, and agreement of rates between competing roads may be controlled.

Judge Farrar was summoned to the White House to confer with the president as the result of a letter embodying the subject matter related above, and the information is given out semi-officially.

IN STATE OF REBELLION.

Considerable Trouble Occurs in the Southern Part of Morocco.

Tangier, Morocco, May 7—According to information received here from Morocco City, the whole of the southern part of Morocco is in a state of rebellion. After the populace of Morocco City had proclaimed Mulai-Hafig, brother of the reigning sultan, to be sultan of Morocco, Mulai released the prisoners from the jail, arrested the murderer of Dr. Manchamp, the French citizen whose assassination caused the intervention of France in Morocco, and restored the old governor of the city.

It is reported that many of the local officials have sent word to Sultan Mulai Ab El Azia, who is at Fez, that they will no longer recognize his authority.

Orders Reduction in Rate.

Washington, May 7.—The interstate commerce commission has rendered its first opinion in a case involving the reasonableness of an express rate. The case was brought by the society of American Florists, who claimed that the rate charged by the United States Express company, on cut flowers from New Jersey points to New York city, was unreasonable, excessive and unjust. In July, 1906, the rate was increased from 50 cents to $1 per hundred pounds. The commission rules that the rate should be reduced to 60 cents per hundred pounds, and holds that the express company cannot justify its increase in rate by the mere production of its contracts with its own agents and the railroad companies.

Fatal Accident at Kalamazoo.

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 7.—Fireman Abner Wenger, of Elkhart, Ind., was instantly killed and John A. Brownel, driver of a city street sweeper, was fatally injured when a double header Lake Shore freight train collided with the sweeper at the Portage street crossing early Monday, derailing the train and piling nineteen freight cars in a heap.

WOMAN WAS RELEASED.

Slayer of James Lee, a Youth, Was Released on Insignificant Bond.

Ola Royal, the negro woman who shot and killed Lee James, a fourteen-year-old boy, at Grove Park, a few weeks ago, and who has been in jail for the past few days, has been released by an order from Justice Colman's court upon a bond of $250 for her appearance before the circuit court, or at least the grand jury, when her presence is desired.

The story of this crime, which occurred at Grove Park, has already been published in The Sun. The coroner's jury exonerated the woman by a verdict of accidental killing, but she was re-arrested, brought to this city and arraigned in Justice Colman's court, when the justice decided that to gain her freedom she must secure the necessary bond of $250, which was furnished.

TUESDAY'S RAIN.

Planters of This Section Greatly Benefited by the Downpour.

This section was visited by fine rains Tuesday, with the result that the planters and truckers are anticipating great good.

Those of the country who were in the city Tuesday expressed gratification at the rain, which was badly needed. The farmers will be busy for the next few days planting their crops, which are already late.

The First Rehearsal.

As announced in The Sun, the first rehearsal of Wiegand's Festival Mass in "E" flat, was held at Holy Trinity church Monday night. While for various reasons a great many of the chorus were unable to attend (that's one pecularity inimical to choruses) the general effect was good. In a work of such calibre, large choruses are usually assisted by orchestra as well as organ accompaniments, and it is to be hoped that those in Gainesville who can assist, either vocally or instrumentally, will take advantage of the opportunity afforded them to become familiar with such a composition.

The next rehearsal will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday next.

Picnic Postponed.

For some reason the Sunday school picnic from Melrose has been postponed. The picnic was to have been held at Park Springs Friday of the present week, but our Melrose correspondent writes that for some reason the same has been postponed.

The correspondent states, however, that there will be a "public picnic" at Ford's Springs on Thursday, May 9, when all are invited to come and bring full baskets and good appetites.

The Board Meetings.

The boards of county commissioners and public instruction held their regular monthly meetings yesterday, proceedings of which will be given as soon as they are compiled on the minute books.

Both meetings were of deep interest, and a great deal of business of importance was transacted.

Earnest Workers' Society.

The regular monthly meeting of the Earnest Workers' Society of the First Presbyterian church will be held at the home of Mrs. T. P. Hay, North Pleasant street, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, at which a full attendance is desired.

Tom McFadden Charged With Toting a Pistol, But Not Convicted.

Tom McFadden, colored, better known at "Possum" McFadden, possibly because he has the art of "possuming" on the officers, was arraigned in Justice Colman's court upon a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

The evidence, however, was not sufficiently convincing to hold the defendant, and he was released.

The "booby" prize was awarded to Miss Inez Thomas and Ralph Thomas, and it proved to be a huge stick of candy.

Misses DeLand and Vidal and Joseph DuPree gave several very enjoyable instrumental selections, and Addison Pound rendered a fine vocal selection.

At a late hour delicious ices and cakes were served by little Misses Anna Blair Thomson and Irma Vidal. Those fortunate to receive invitations were Misses Eloise Vidal, Ida McDonald, Mabel Livingston, Ruby DeLand, Inez Thomas, Louise Nixon, Ruth Doig, Rosabel Pedrick, Leo Baker, Mary Crawford, Lucia Patton, Leo Padgett, Gladys McFarland, and Messrs. DETECTIVE WORK.

Just as an intelligent detective sets himself to discover the identity of the perpetrator of a crime that seems mysterious, so the medical man goes to work to discover the origin of the troubles of his patients. He knows that in most cases some of the organs of the body are not performing their functions properly, and knowing that in a large percentage of cases the action of the bowels is at fault, he early inquires whether his patient is constipated. If so, the physician knows that if a cure is to be effected, the constipation must be not only relieved, but permanently remedied and that in order to accomplish this certain muscles must be given new strength and elasticity. For this purpose successful medical men pin their faith to a preparation of ½ oz. Fluid Extract of Senna, ½ oz. Rochelle Salts, 1 oz. Aro-Sagrada, 30 grains Bicarbonate of Soda, ½ oz. water and 1½ ozs. Glycerine. Of this the patient is given a teaspoonful at bedtime and before each meal, the treatment being continued until there is free movement of the bowels. This simple preparation can be put up by any good druggist.

Good Words for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips, of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl, Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Railway Trainmen Meet.

Atlanta, May 7.—Delegates to the number of 720 met in Atlanta on Monday to attend the biennial convention of the Order of Railway Trainmen. This is the first time that the order has been south, and it is expected that its influence will do a great deal to stimulate interest among the southern members. The convention will be in session for ten days or a week.

FLOOD GATES ARE OPENED.

Memphis Experiences Heaviest Rainfall in Many Years.

Memphis, Tenn., May 7.—One of the heaviest downpours of rain recorded here in years occurred early Monday morning, the precipitation in ten hours being 2.56 inches.

Streets were overflowed, many cellars flooded and small streams quickly ran over their banks.

Street car traffic was temporarily suspended on several lines of this city. Incoming trains are reported late, and a washout occurred on the Southern railway thirty miles east of here.

Reports from the country state that considerable crop damage was sustained by the heavy rain.

A high wind prevailed Sunday night and Monday. Many boats were compelled to tie up.

In north Mississippi the wind reached the proportions of a small tornado. Telegraph poles were blown down and many outhouses were unroofed. No fatalities are reported.

WORLD-WIDE PEACE PILGRIMAGE

English Editors' Plan for Spreading the Cause of Peace.

New York, May 7.—William T. Stead, the English editor and reformer, told Sunday at the Y. M. C. A. meeting of his latest plain for the spreading of the cause of peace and arbitration in an address which was announced at his last public appearance in his present visit to America. He now plans a world-wide peace pilgrimage, to establish peace circles, or nuclei in all the important cities of the world. As a preliminary detail he wishes to have $1,000,000 raised. He says this will be perfectly easy to raise if proper appeal is made, particularly to the young folks of this country.

This proclamation shows the projection of Mr. Stead's proposition for a pilgrimage through various countries of Europe, winding up at the Hague, where the next conference is to assemble on June 15.

WOMEN PAY MORE.

Why Insurance Companies Discriminate Against the Gentle Sex.

Medical examiners of insurance ompanies say that the reason a woman pays more for the privilege of insurance than a man, is from the fact that women more readily fall victims to indigestion and stomach troubles and the fatal ailments that spring from these causes.

All persons, they say, who have a weakened digestive system and suffer from sick headache, dizzy spells, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, bloating, nervousess, sleeplessness, and the many other symptoms of indigestion, soon lower the tone of the whole system and are most susceptible to a fatal illness.

For curative power in all stomach troubles, nothing else is as safe yet effective, nothing else can be thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as Mi-o-na. It is unlike any remedy heretofore known and is really one of the valuable discoveries in modern science.

It is not the acute attacks that influence the insurance examiners alone, but the constant feelings of weakness, headaches, indigestion and stomach troubles—these things, physicians say, kill more people than many more serious diseases.

To escape this condition of ill health, to enjoy one's food and yet never suffer with indigestion, a person should use Mi-o-na stomach tablets. They are not a mere digestive tablet, but strengthen and restore to natural action the stomach and bowels and effect a complete cure in even the worst form of stomach troubles.

J. W. McCollum sells Mi-o-na in 50-cent boxes under a guarantee to refund the money unless it does all that is claimed for it.

Calcutta Natives Treathen Trouble.

London, May 7.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Simla says that the government of India is alive to the seriousness of the present unrest among the people, and that an official statement is expected, maintaining the hands of the local officials in obtaining order. The tone of the disaffected section of the Calcutta natives is becoming more insolent. Order, however, is being maintained. A second riot was prevented at Lahore by the prompt action of the police.

GIRLHOOD TO WOMANHOOD

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

ELLEN M. OLSON — CLARA E. DARMSTADTER

The responsibility for a daughter's future largely rests with the mother.

The right influence and the information which is of vital interest to the daughter imparted at the proper time has not only saved the life but insured the success of many a beautiful girl.

When a girl's thoughts become sluggish, with headache, dizziness or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude; when she is a mystery to herself and friends, her mother should come to her aid, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, will at this time prepare the system for the coming change, and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities. It has been thus depended upon for two generations.

Hundreds of letters from young girls and their mothers, expressing gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for them, are constantly being received.

Miss Ellen M. Olson, of 417 N. East St., Kewanee, Ill. writes:—

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have had the best doctors in our town for my sickness and they all thought that an operation was necessary. I had headache, sideache, and my feet were so sore I could hardly stand. I took two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when my periods were established and now I am perfectly well. Mama says she wont be without your medicine in the house. I have told one girl what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me and she is taking it now."

Miss Clara E. Darmstadter, of 453 Breckenridge St., Buffalo, N.Y., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For about a year, except during the past few months, I suffered with severe pains every month, with backaches and headaches. I had the blues so bad that I was in despair. It is a pleasure to tell you that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me. The change in my appearance is wonderful and I desire that this good may come to every sufferer. Any one desiring to know further details may write to me and I shall be glad to give them."

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice, ask her to address Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., and tell her every detail of her symptoms, and to keep nothing back. She will receive advice absolutely free, from a source that has no rival in the experience of woman's ills, and it will, if followed, put her on the right road to a strong, healthy and happy womanhood.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs cures where others fail.

No other remedy has such a record of actual cures of female ills. Thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it has done for them.

Leith, who asserted in the senate a few weeks ago that fertilizer of the same grade and excellence made at Florence, Ala., cost the Alabama farmer as much as that made at Baltimore. He charges and says he will prove that a trust does exist, and forces the farmers to buy not only inferior goods, but those at a high price.

Fifty-odd witnesses have been summoned, and the whole matter will be gone into.

PEACE MOVEMENT BECOMING PRACTICAL.

A recent and encouraging phase of the peace movement is its growing tendency toward the practical. For years peace societies have been enlarging on the horrors of war and deploring war expenditures; yet wars occurred with considerable frequency. No amount of condemnation will remove, at least in our day, the causes of war which are pretty thoroughly inbred in man. The only practical work for peace lies in developing the agencies now at our disposal for dealing with these causes and for preventing as many conflicts as present conditions will permit. It is significant that the recent Peace Congress in New York City gave but scant comfort to the "radicals" and that its platform dealt almost exclusively with propositions which it is reasonable to expect may be taken up by the coming Hague Conference. Here we see the work of some of the more conservative and therefore more effective peace agencies, among them the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration, which thirteen years ago barred war and peace from its discussions, centering them on the development and promotion of international arbitration. This conference has had no small influence in shaping the sentiment now manifesting itself in Hague conferences and treaties of arbitration. Working on exactly the same principles, the Interparliamentary Union has become the foremost international instrument of peace. The friends of peace do well to follow the example of these bodies, recognizing that a single war prevented today may perhaps be more to the world's advantage than the most elaborate preparation for universal peace a dozen or a hundred generations hence.

Representative Matthews, the distinguished gentleman from the county of Marion, has won the sobriquet of the "bald headed reformer." This remark was occasioned during the early days of the session because of the energetic efforts of Mr. Matthews in reforming the railroads and championing the desirability of enforcing the franchise tax bill in the lower House. That Mr. Matthews is one of the heavyweights of the House, passes without contradiction. He is one of the most affable gentlemen you can meet in a day's inspection of the Capitol. He takes an active interest in all pending legislation and when he rises to address his colleagues on any subject his remarks attract undivided attention. Instantly after the reading of the resolution to have the Lake City school buildings inspected by a committee of the House, the speaker's attention was attracted by Mr. Matthews, who for thirty minutes spoke in opposition to the measure. "What is the need of making a law during one session of the Legislature and repealing it at another," queried the former Consul to Brazil. "The Buckman bill abolishing these institutions has become a law and it is a good one. This inspecting idea is only a ruse to have another State school located at Lake City and I am emphatically against it."

After a spicy speech by Mr. Knight of Columbia defending the moral atmosphere of Lake City, the House sustained Mr. Matthews by a vote of almost two to one as the bald headed reformer gently stroked his curly locks and smiled at his colleague, Mr. Wartmann.

"Give us Culberson and Carmack; a pair of natural-born scrappers and tall-timber stumpers that can sweep the deck and swipe the officers," shouts the pugnacious Austin statesman. The old guard dies, but never surrenders.

It does not appear that the efforts of the Western Federation of Miners to enlist the labor union element of the country against the President has been very successful. The attempt turned on an appeal to the labor element to repudiate the President on account of his utterances anent Hayward, Moyer and Pettibone, the three members of the Federation now awaiting trial in Idaho for the murder of Governor Steunenberg. The President has referred to these men in one of his letters as "undesirable citizens," classing them along with E. H. Harriman and Eugene Debbs, which was in itself almost enough to make any class of men hot. The more radical among the labor men were quick to seize on the opportunity to appeal to the labor unions all over the country for endorsement and a rebuke to the President. However, the appeal has fallen decidedly flat. An example of how it was received was given at a meeting of the Central Labor Union in Washington. The resolution of sympathy with Moyer et al and of condemnation for the President was never put at all. The union contributed $25 toward the expense of the murder trial, which was fair enough, but further than that ignored the matter altogether. Organized labor has never figured seriously in American politics, and if it has not risen to the present opportunity, it is not likely to do so.

Whoever Loves Is Never Old.

When life has been well spent, age is a loss of what it can well spare—muscular strength, organic instincts, gross bulk and works that belong to these—but the central wisdom, which was old in infancy, is young in fourscore years and, dropping off obstructions, leaves in happy subjects the mind purified and wise. I have heard that whoever loves is in no condition old. I have heard that whenever the name of man is spoken the doctrine of immortality is announced. It cleaves to its constitution. The mode of it baffles our wit, and no whisper comes to us from the other side. But the inference from the working of intellect, hiving knowledge, hiving skill—at the end of life just ready to be born—affirms the inspirations of affection and of the moral sentiment.—Ralph Waldo Emerson in Essay on "Old Age."

A FAMOUS STEAMBOAT.

The Story of the Old Mississippi Racer, the J. M. White.

"Steamboat days" on the Ohio and Mississippi have given rise to a mythology entirely American, in which certain famous names are repeated endlessly. One hears old river men recounting tales that seem to have to do always with the Eclipse and the Shotwell, the Lee and the Natchez or some other pair of famous racers which were the fastest in their day. But there is one name which always stands alone, that of the steam packet J. M. White, for many years the unrivaled holder of records of river speed.

There was but one J. M. White, and no other could be built. The story is related by Archer B. Hulbert in his book on the Ohio river.

The J. M. White was built at Elizabeth, Pa., in 1844. Billy King, a boatman famous for many years, drew the plans. He figured to a nicety the contour of the hull so that there should be but two waves dragged by it when under way. Then he so located the side wheels that they should strike the second wave at its crest and so convert this obstacle to speed into a benefit.

Mr. J. M. Converse, who was to build the boat, objected strenuously to this plan for putting the wheels twenty feet aft of the accepted place.

"I will make her this way or not at all," said King. Converse appealed to Mr. Chouteau of St. Louis, who was furnishing the money.

"Let King do what he thinks best," was the owner's answer. So the White was built as planned, although river men scoffed.

On its first run it placed the designer at the head of his profession. It ran from New Orleans to St. Louis against the full current of the Mississippi in three days, twenty-three hours and nine minutes, fully a day under the best previous time.

River men in St. Louis fairly besieged Billy King to design them a boat to beat the White. They offered him unheard of sums. To all his refusal was the same.

"When any man designs a boat to beat the time of the White, then I will draft one to beat his."

The builder's draft of the White was lost, and until the boat was worn out and cast away no one thought to take another from the hull. So after a few short years—for the life of a river boat is brief—the only draft of it was that which the designer had kept, and this he refused to let any man see. He had gone to St. Louis, and from there he wrote home to a friend:

"Bring my wife to St. Louis as soon as she can get ready. Go into the attic of my house, and under the comb of the roof you will find a model in a box. Bring that box with you. Do not open it or allow any one to see it. Lock it in a stateroom on the boat and leave it there till you reach St. Louis. I will pay all expenses."

When they reached St. Louis his first inquiry was for the model, and upon securing it he took it at once to his house. He opened it in the presence of his wife and his friend and showed them a beautiful model of the White in walnut and pine several feet long.

With a saw he cut it to pieces and with a hatchet reduced it to kindling wood.

"I could have done that at home just as well, Billy," said his friend, "and saved the expense."

"Yes, but I should never have been satisfied," replied King.

His fame rests secure on the achievement of the J. M. White, whose record was never equaled until the R. E. Lee cut it to three days, eighteen hours and fourteen minutes twenty-six years later. He was wise enough not to try another and by destroying the last draft kept the actual plan of the boat forever secret.—Youth's Companion.

Already Proved.

A young man who had inherited a large fortune from a rich but very economical relative decided to live on a scale commensurate with his greatly increased income and was making arrangements to build a fine mansion, buy an automobile and invest in other expensive luxuries when an elderly friend who had always been one of his advisers undertook to remonstrate with him.

"What's this I hear about your squandering the money your uncle left you, Harry?" said the elderly friend.

"I am not going to squander it," he answered, "but I'm going to get some good out of it."

"It's enough to make him turn over in his grave. Didn't your uncle prove in his own case that a man could live on a personal expenditure of less than $1,000 a year?"

"Yes."

"Well?"

"Well, he proved it so thoroughly that I accept it as demonstrated. What is the use of my continuing the experiment?"

Long Wait.

"Grandpa, how old are you?"

"I am eighty-seven years old, my dear."

"Then you were born eighty years before I was. What a long time you had alone waiting for me!"

The Story of a Word.

A comparison of old editions of Scott's "Monastery" with one of later date will reveal a slight alteration in the text of a sentence in the tenth chapter. For the word "morse" another is substituted. A tale of comedy attaches to the word which has gone. "Hardened wretch," says Father Eustace, "art thou but this instant delivered from death, and dost thou so soon morse thoughts of slaughter?" The origin of the word morse seems sorely to have troubled the etymologists. Two learned correspondents of Notes and Queries, Mr. Wheatley tells us, accounted for the word. One explained it as "to prime," as when one primes a musket, from O. Fr. "amorce," powder for the touchhole (Cotgrave), and the other by "to bite" (Lat. "mordere"); hence "to indulge in biting, stinging or gnawing thoughts of slaughter." On the other side were those who said that the word was a misprint for something else. "That the word as a misprint should have been printed and read by millions for fifty years without being challenged and altered exceeds the bounds of probability," exclaimed the apologists for morse. But when the manuscript was examined there "nurse" was the word, plainly written.—St. James' Gazette.

Paid in Full.

Two young ladies, evidently stenographers, were having an animated discussion while on their way to work the other morning in a Market street car. The discussion revolved around the question as to the best method to impress their respective employers as to the value of their services.

"Do you know," said the smaller of the two, "my former employer was the worst old granny. He could not spell the simplest words correctly, and he couldn't pronounce them. One day I thought I would impress him with the value of my services. He gave me a letter to typewrite, and I just went along and copied it as he handed it to me. Then I made a second copy with all the misspelled words corrected. With beaming countenance I handed him both copies."

"What did he do?" breathlessly asked her friend, forcing the conductor to hold his car so that she might alight at her corner and at the same time hear the answer.

"He fired me," was the reply.—Philadelphia Record.

SPECIAL OCCASION.

Southern Baptist Convention and Auxiliary Societies, Richmond, Va., May 16-21, 1907.

On account of the above occasion we announce round-trip rate of one fare, plus twenty-five cents in the sale of tickets to Richmond, Va., tickets at this rate being on sale from May 13th until 16th inclusive, with final limit to leave Richmond fifteen days from date of sale. However, by complying with certain conditions and upon payment of fee of $1.00, an extension of this limit to June 17th may be procured.

The Seaboard has been declared the Official Route for delegates to this meeting. Those having the matter in hand were evidently guided in reaching the decision to name the line by some of the attractive features of the service, noticeable among these being the double daily service with through coaches and sleeping cars and then the following: Our people, with an idea of affording delegates to this and other conventions held in Richmond, an opportunity for visiting the Jamestown Exposition, perfected an arrangement whereby the return portion of tickets reading from Richmond are honored from Portsmouth, Virginia, without additional charge. This alone certainly makes the Seaboard especially attractive.

There is a movement now on foot to have the Florida Baptists assemble in Jacksonville, moving from there on the same train—one might say in a body. This, too, will make the trip more pleasant.

STATE CAPITOL SCANDAL.

Amazing Profits Made by Ring that Built Pennsylvania's State House.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 6.—Civil and criminal suits will be brought by Attorney General Todd against those responsible for the state capitol scandal.

A complete list of those who will be named as defendants will not be known until the inquiry is completed. The commission will hold no more public sessions until after the legislature adjourns, on May 16.

The suits will be based on the testimony showing that the contractors collected from the state for 572 thermostats and installed only 363, and in substitution of domestic for Bascarratt glass, and an inferior glass for Tiffany Favrile.

J. H. Sanderson & Co., general contractors; J. M. Huston, architect for the building commission, and H. Shumacher, former superintendent of grounds and buildings, are among those involved.

The testimony also shows that while the more elaborate of the $2,000,000 worth of lighting fixtures was to be mercurial gold, the bulk of those installed were merely lacquered, the latter process costing one-tenth the price of the former.

The reports of the experts, which will be made to the commission before the public hearings are resumed, will show that the measurements of the parquetry flooring, paintings and decorating and fittings, were falsified, and that the contractor's profit on the $2,000,000 metallic furnishings was 500 per cent.

Relief from Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by all druggists.
